Section I. General Information

1.0 Background

Richland County Youth and Family Council is an Ohio Family and Children First Council per Ohio Revised Code 121.37. Richland County is a supportive community where children and families achieve their fullest potential, build upon their strengths, and fulfill their rights, responsibilities, and needs. The purpose of the Council is to provide leadership to assure an effective system of collaborative, coordinated, and efficient community services which assist each family and child to meet their individual needs and responsibilities. The Council began as a Council of Governments in 1990 as local social service leaders identified a need to establish a mechanism for communication, collaboration, and coordination. This was three years before the structure was established in the Ohio Revised Code. Richland County has always been progressive in its social service delivery system and its desire to improve outcomes for children and families.

The Council embraces the values of Ohio's commitment to child well-being, which are:

- expectant parents and newborns thrive,
- infants and toddlers thrive,
- children are ready for school,
- children and youth succeed in school,
- youth choose healthy behaviors, and
- youth successfully transition into adulthood.

2.0 Purpose/Overview

In 2011, the Council established a pooled fund in which they could contract with service providers to provide evidenced based services to improve the well-being of children, maintain children safely at home, or if not at home, in the most family like setting within the community.

At this time, the Council is interested in proposals that provide supportive in-home parent education services to families at-risk of child abuse and neglect. Evidenced based/evidence informed curriculum must be used. Provide services based on community needs and resources. Services are strength-based and family-centered. Act as mentors and provide intensive support, information, and modeling of effective parenting — all in the home of the family. Services are family centered and focus on:

•Parental resilience is developed through teaching problem solving skills, modeling effective parenting, providing 24/7 support and referrals to services.

•Knowledge of parenting and child development is encouraged and developed through sharing skills and modeling strategies. Individualized help is provided in the home with the children.

•Social connections are developed and fostered through social-support, building the individual relationship and connecting the parents to others through group meetings, activities, and referrals.

•Social-emotional competence of children is developed through strengthening of the nurturing capabilities of the family; interaction of parents with the children is observed and modeling is provided for support of the children’s competence.

•Ensuring safety of the children, including attention to medical, dental, and mental health care needs, as well as safe housing and freedom from child abuse, neglect, and domestic violence.

The program shall provide a professionally trained parent educator to go into the homes of families to provide in-home services, to families at risk of child abuse and neglect, on a regular, voluntary basis and provide parent education and resources to help families in the areas of child safety, improved parenting skills, improved problem-solving skills for both parents and children and enhanced social support systems.

Between $45,000 to $75,000 is available for effective in home parent education.

Collaboration between agencies is strongly encouraged.

Additionally, the services proposed must be utilized for families and youth being referred by the Council or one of its funding agencies.

Crisis stabilization services for youth who exhibit aggressive or violent behavior related to mental illness and/or intellectual/developmental disabilities who are at risk of out of home placement.
